The 2026 NCDOT Prequalification Campaign will prepare firms to do business with NCDOT. Prequalification is necessary to ensure that a firm has sufficient ability and experience to perform the work specified on NCDOT contracts. All firms interested in working on highway construction projects are required to become prequalified. The sessions will cover the NCID (North Carolina Identity Management Service) process, documentation and experience requirements for various scopes of work and how to successfully complete the online prequalification application. The sessions will also provide an overview of the NCDOT Standard Specifications and Standard Drawings. Sessions will be held in person at locations in the Western, Central and Eastern regions.
