

NCDOT - DIVISION OF AVIATION AIRPORT PROJECT MANAGERS

Airport regions are divided into eastern and western, with a lead airport project manager (APM) who coordinates APMs for smaller areas: northeast, southeast, northwest and southwest. National Park and Commercial Services are managed separately. Regions, areas and commercial service districts are depicted on the map below.

DIVISION OF AVIATION

The following list groups airports by region, then subgroups them by area. Each region and area includes APM contact information. Non-primary airports are listed by color-coded airport groupings (red, blue, and green), a North Carolina Department of Transportation code to describe the role an airport plays in a community as determined by a scoring methodology that includes the economic development data and socioeconomic conditions. Primary commercial service airports have met a threshold number of passengers that board planes rather than economic conditions and are color-coded yellow.
