16_15 Level Accessibility and Creation

Question:
When I copied an element from a referenced file to my active file, why does the element change from the original level to a default level?

Answer:
This is a problem only when the following scenerios apply;

- The level is part of the other NCDOT Unit's DGN library. And/Or
- The level is part of the referenced file that originated from other NCDOT Units.

Roadway Designers are not able to create levels. When copying referenced elements that contained other NCDOT Unit's levels and levels are not part of Roadway's DGN library, the newly created element's level will be assigned to the default level.
