

Instruction on using standards drawings with models.

The Standard Drawings no longer have details on the outside of the plan sheet in the design file. The details have been incorporated into models now located in the design file. Download the standard as you normally would. Microstation V8 will allow the placement of each model as a cell in your design file. After you have downloaded the standard, attached it as a cell library to your design file and then you will see the model as a cell in that standard, see figure below:

Now simply place the sheet that you want as any other cell into the design file. There will not be a sheet for every case that you might have
