

19A NCAC 02B .0218 RAILROAD NAME SIGNS ON OVERPASSES

The name of the railroad overpassing a highway on the state highway system may be shown on the structure. The sign (or nameplate) and its location must have approval of the Department of transportation and the entire cost of the installation must be borne by the railroad company.

History Note: Authority G.S. 136-18(5); 136-30;
Eff. July 1, 1978;
Amended Eff. October 1, 1993.